STEM PROJECTS

• Fourth grade students had a challenge to build their own digging tools using household products. They also had to determine what the artifact was and where it came from—their only hint was that it came from the Civil War!

Shown in the pictures:
Second graders were thrilled to show their designs for a pueblo house they built using LEGOS or magnets!